BALL AT WAIKIKI.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Irwin Entertain Their Friend in a Most Brilliant Manner Last Night.

A large number of ladies and gentlemen gathered last night at the magnificent residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Irwin at Waikiki in response to invitation to a dance. The ball was a most successful and brilliant affair. The floral decorations of the rooms were profuse and most tastefully arranged while the garden looked like a fairy-land lighted by pretty Japanese lanterns. Although several hundred people were present, there was ample room for dancing which was kept up with a will to the excellent music furnished by Prof. Berger until 1 o'clock in the morning. An elegant supper was served. Chief steward James of the Australia acted as caterer.

Not a Wreck.

The steamer Kaala which was reported yesterday afternoon as having gone ashore on the reef at Waialua, is gotten off. The tug Eleu towed her into the harbour a little after noon to-day. The steamer has lost her rudder and rudder post, and will be hauled up on to the Marine Railway after the Kaimiloa comes off. She is said not to be leaking.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or the utterances of our correspondents.]

EDITOR HOLOMUA:—

The following lines interpret the blow-hard proclivities of the annexation club's professional "howler" so well that we fondly dedicate them to him.

"I'm a desert hyena, I am,
And dwell in the sandy Soudan;
I can augur and shoot, and the Britishers loot,
From Beersheba clear into Dan. Whoop!
I have ostrich on toast every day,
I eat one at a meal by the way;
I like crocodile stew, with a jackal or two,
Just to eat for dessert, as they say.

I'm the twelve-fingered Mahdi, I am,
And I'm King of the Sandy Soudan;
I'm a tailless baboon and a roaring simoon;
I can wallup the British, I can"

I have men by the million or more,
And concubines, too, by the score;
I'm a son of a gun from the land of the sun,
I'm a red-handed Arab fore gore.

Then, whoop! for the sandy Soudan,
Let any one stop me who can;
I'm a crooked-eyed, bow-legged son-of-a-gun,
I'm for gore—I'm a very bad man. Whoop!"

SAN DIEGO.

"I can't pay this bill, doctor. It's exorbitant. I'm no better than I was either."

"That's because you didn't take my advice."

"Ah—well—of course, if I didn't take it I don't owe you for it. Thanks. Good morning."—Tit Bits.

The Horse-liar.

A horse liar is a man who has had a horse which could go in 2:20. He hasn't got him now, but that doesn't make any difference. He has driven that horse in a race with an express train and taken first money. And he also had a running horse which made a dash of 25 miles on a bet of $5,000. He hasn't the horse or the money at the present time, but he can give you the names of dozen leading bank presidents and justices who saw that dash.

The horse liar doesn't stop at lying about his own horse, but he is ready to put in his best lies about animals he never saw. He is in the confidence of the owners of all the celebrated equines. In his own opinion such a track is short, and such a track is long. He doesn't believe Rarus was much of a horse, and he feels that he could drive Goldsmith Maid in three seconds faster than she recorded. He is the identical man who first saw speed in Flora Temple, and if he had wanted to be mean about it he could have bought her for $40 and an old plow, and made $5,000 out of the trade. He knows all about spavins, ring-bones, poll evil, pink eye, and glanders, and he has a sure cure for each one. His seat is on the head of the second cracker barrel from the stove, each evening through the winter, and when he comes across some one who had invested $15 and a across-cut saw in an old plug of a horse, to use in a cider mill, he is in his glory. He knows all about that horse, been an awful good stepper; saw him run away once and kill to women; Rarey tried to tame him, but had to give it up, reckon he could go out now and give most of the boys dust; and so on until the grocer rubs his sleepy eyes and regretfully says:

"Come, you liars, it's time to lock up and go home."—Detroit Free Press.

A Sage Pagan.

Evangelist.—Are you a Christian, Sing Yeh?
Sing Yeh.—(late of Hong-kong).—Ess; heapee Clistian. Go Sunday school, singee, playee, leadee Bible; allee same heapee much Clistian.

"But, I understand you worship Joss, too?"

"Ess; play to Joss allee same evly dayee; bulnee Joss-stickee; heapee stan' in wiv Joss allee while."

"But, you can not be both Christian and Pagan; and worship God and Joss at the same time."

"Wattee mattee clan't? Swingee on bot' sidee fence allee same likee politician. Dont' clad dlam which beatee. Me safee, eithel way."

An Appeal From The Dudes.

Oh, tailor-made divinities,
With skirts so tight a fit!
You make a fellow wonder how
On earth you ever sit.
But what we chiefly want to know,
To set our minds at ease,
Is how you keep those narrow skirts
From bagging at the knees.
Mittens Willett.
